

Amelia Fletcher

The right mix of sticks and carrots: the OFT's review of its penalties and leniency policies

The talk looks at the OFT consultations on revised penalties and leniency guidance in the wider context of the instruments available to a competition authority to drive compliance with competition law. It will include discussion of recent evidence on penalty levels across different jurisdictions and on the deterrent impact of different tools.